- c. Peer group in the area of research like sciences & social sciences may be created. They will meet frequently to discuss the research paper threadbare and such an exercise may enable the paper into a major publication. It can also help to prepare working papers.
- d. Potential sponsors may be invited.
- e. Research methodology course/workshops may be conducted at least once a semester. The research office can coordinate this.
- f. A strong process should be put in place to get the proposal vetted by it through progress reports.
- g. We can think of publication incentives
- h. Research culture should be a part of postgraduate studies
- i. A research committee could be created to facilitate the functioning of research office.

Action taken:

- The Research Policy of the college has already impacted the staff members of the college.
- Six teachers have been deputed for FIP programme in the current academic year with a paid leave of one year.
- Similarly, teachers are being encouraged to develop a research culture. More than 20 teachers have been deputed to various research-based programmes ranging from one week to two months.
- Research Committee has been constituted.
- Other suggestions are also being discussed at appropriate levels.
